As soon as they came within range the Confederates opened a tremendous fire.

The Lancaster was struck thirty times. Her entire bow was shot away, causing her to sink immediately, turning a complete somersault as she went down. All the crew except two escaped.

The Switzerland was disabled by a four pound ball penetrating her steam drum. She floated down the river, the batteries still keeping up a fire, striking her repeatedly.

INDIANS WHIPPED.

WASHINGTON, March 31—Official information has been received of Col. Connor's severe battle and splendid victory on Bear River, Washington Territory, after a forced march of 140 miles in mid winter and through deep snow, in which 76 of his men were disabled by iron and feet, he and his gallant band of only 200 attacked 300 Indian warriors in their stronghold and after a hard fought battle of four hours destroyed the entire band, leaving 204 dead upon the field. Our loss was 14 killed and 49 wounded.

These Indians had murdered several miners during the winter, and were a part of the same band who had been massacring immigrants on the overland mail route for the last fifteen years, and the principal actors and leaders in the horrid crimes of the past summer.
